SHIPBUILDING AT HOME. An Effect of the War.

Lloyd's Register shiphuilding roturns for the quarter ending September 1914, which we have received from the local Surveyor, are prefaced by a note to the effect that in consequence of the war it is not possible at present to publish the usual information regarding the shipbuilding industry throughout the World. The present retu na are therefo e confined to merchant ships in course of construction in the Uni ed Kingdom.

Destite the war there has been very little falling off in the toninge under construction, the figures comparing well with those in the corresponding period of 1913, but it is pointed out that while the tonnage now under construction in the United Kingdom is about 1,400 tone higher than that which was in hand at the end of last quarter, it will, be understood that the rate of progress in merchant ship construction much reduced in the present circumstances and that the immediate output will be correspondingly less than that which which would be attained under normal conditions.

Of the vessels being built in the United Kingdom at the and of September, 389 of 1,268,164 tons are under the inspection of the Surveyors of Lloyd's Register with a view to classification by this Society. In the quarter under notice there were 470 ateam vesicle, of a tonnego of 1,718,730 building, against 491 of 1,982,423 tons in the Sept quarter of 1913. Sailing vessels (16) accounted for 4,820 tons compared compared with 17 of 4,831 tone in the corresponding period of Lat year,"

Of the total tennage under construction 410,118 at 'largew and 203,880 in Greenock; 351,350 tons were laid down in Bellast, and the rest in English yarda.

LONDON RAID ON GERMAN PREMISES.

The Concrete Floor Sensation.

The following interesting account of the discovery of concrete fluors in the premises of Germin films, in London (a brief announcement of which was cable out by Reuter at the tim-) appeared in the Lou-Great sensation was caused last night by the discovery of a concrete roof, between office and 4ft. thick, on a building in Victoraroad, Willesden Junction, which had been raided by the police after a visit from military officers some days ago.

The premises are those of Messre, C. G. Röder and Co., a Leipzig firm of music printers; whose cipital of £10,000 is reported to be largely held by Germans. An explanation put forward with regard to the presence of the flas roof of thick concrete in that when the building was put up about mi) o years ago est paions were contemplaced, and 1' wa- so constructed as to allow of development. The foundations of the building also are said to be of very thick Strategontly is time of war such a position would be of immense value. Kensal Green graworks, the West London electric light works, and large reservoirs, in addition to the huge stretch of railway lines, might be at its mercy if it were in the enemys's hands.

It is declared on behalf of the firm, however, that nothing but business reasons has led to the hus di g of the factory and that there is un oversion whatever for suspicion on the part of the military authorities.

The firm employs about 180 men, of whom 150 are British. It was stated yesterday that a number of German employees who songhe to leave for military service with the German army were prevented some time ago and that they were already At noon yesterday a large force of plain.

Lord Charles has met, many of the great ones of the earth, but he never seems to have taken them quite so seriously as his pikes. Here, for instones, is all he been fortell us about an interview he had with Bhanarck in 1889 about fleets and things:

Bismarck said that he could not understand why, my sown people did not listen to me (nor could I-); for (said he) the British Fleet was the greatest factor for peace in Europe. We had a most interesting converse tion open matters of defence and properation for war; and his thus was most friendly towards the English. He very kindly presented me with his signed photograph. I stayed with him for two hours; and we drank much beer; and all the time his giganthe boar-hound, lying beside him. stared fixedly at me with a god and

" or "The foliage is stunted . . . but productive!" with the most weighty and measured emphasis, as though these were prophetic utterances. E-was quite bewildered, for I did not then know whether he were serious, or were indulging a recordite wit. - H was a visionary; dwelling much in world of his own; and L'know now that he was perfectly natural and merious on these occasions.

He met Li Hung Chang, but he has less to tell in about him than about the comic side of Chinese democracy :T

China is one of the most democratic countries in the world. I have seen the great Li Hung Changestepping into the Yamen over the bedies of the coolies, who refused to move and who chaffed him as he passed. have seen a whole Council hundle up their fans and disperse like startled poultry, because a coolie put his head in at the door and exhorted the old gentlemen to be quick, because it was going to rain, and the coolies were going home.

THE VALUE OF THE RUSSIAN FLEET.

In a recent issue says the United Service Gazette we relerred to the strength and utility of the Russian Floor in the Baltie, and showed how mistaken those critics were who seem to hold the the war up to the present. But, as we pointed out, oven though it may never have fired a single projectile, it has played no small part in tying a consi derable German mayal force to the Baltic, which would otherwise have been free for operations on the other side of the Kiel Canal. As as " fleet in being " will continue to be thus useful, and whether the Germans do or do not give battle to the Grand Elect of the British scouer or later, the Russian Fleet the Bultie will slways lighten the blow that the Kaiser's ships can deal at our own war fleck The Russian naval thorities are sufficiently alore in their intelligence department to know at times the exact paval strongth of the

it to be temporarily, or permanently, a justifiable expenditure as it encouraged the Russian Navy a chance of attacking German interests along the enemy's constline in those waters, the Russian that congenial work. Since the Germans are well aware of this fact it' hardly likely to ever fail to make them keep at least double the naval strength of the Russians in the Baltic Scu- and its navy will have that much less etrength to send against our Geand Flect in the North Sea when its War! Lords decide to fight us on the open It will therefore be seen that the German Fleet in those waters to's standup contest, is still able to prevent quite" double its own strength being used for other purposes than watching the Rus- passed sian movements and preventing the Taux's ships from doing mischief to German property and interests. There remains the Russian Black Sea Fleet, which is absolutely safe from German attack, but is at the same time able to do very effective police work in compelling Turkey to maintain a strict neutrality. If the Turks decided throw in their lot with Germany and Austria, the Russian Black Sea Fleet would soon find some work to its hand, and would do it with the 'zest born of long pent-up energy waiting for an outlet. The Tzar's Black Sea war fleet, if not quite a modern naval fighting force, is quite strong enough to dispose of any fleet that the Germans can bring 'against it, even though the ships manhed with Huns and commanded by Attilas." In any circumstances, therefore. Turkey's action can bring no extra anxiety to the British and French Admiraltica, since the Russian Navy would neutralise the Turkish Fleet, as well! attract to itself a large amount of German payal strength in the Baltic. who falk so glibly about the small and ineffective part the Russian war fleet is playing in the present conflict.

winter, the conditions are likely to remain much the same, since Libau is an ico-free port, and Cronstadt can be made the weather is abnormally severe. German naval pressure will have to main the same in the winter, therefore, in these waters, as in the summer, if the enomy's interests are to be thoroughly safeguarded. Meantime the naval figments with which the Germans have tried to gull the world, in common with other highly-coloured fairy tales since the opening of the war, made the recent breaking of the silence of the Russian Admiralty well worth while. In official statement, dated October 2, we were told by this authority that up that date "no Russian warship had been lost or damaged " by this boastful and powerful German Navy, which had "honours" "the conporade of Bultic Lightheners, the insignificant bombardment of Liban, and the destruction of the steamer "Meaborg." In this state. ment we are able to see what the Ocrman Fleet is capable of doing when it in the position of tuking the offensive it chooses was in the Baltic. Its accomplishments in these conditions make but poor showing alongside the things accom- association. plished by the British Fleet when bottling up an enemy in his own ports. There has been no " Bottle of the Bight" in the Baltic. The Germans have been content to leave all the enterprise in that sea to their enemies, while they constantly issue false reports about naval engagements which have never taken place. The sicking of the cruiser " Pal. lada " by a Gorman submarine on October 11 is the only score to the enemy's credit. But if the Kaiser's captains have not been able to do the Busing Floot much injury they apparently, have been more successful in injuring voscels of their own navy in the Baltic, for there are strong reusons for believing that German squadrons and flotilles have make mistakes and engaged each other by night, in those waters. From more than one source evidebce was forthcom ing that a number of injured vessels had been seen limping back from the Baltio

ANNUAL MEETING.

The annual meeting of the Corinthias Yacht Chib was hold at the c'ub'muse lass graning, the Commodity, Dr. Frances Clark, presiding over a rather mall attem dance of members, those present including hapt. G. G. Wood, (vice commedere) C. J. Couks (hon, tressurve) Cops, Cochrane, Mr. J. Spittles, Capt. Milroy, Inspector, Withers, Mesers, J. Holt, J. Craik, E. E. Smith, J. W. Gleyn, H. Ramsay, A. D.

The Secretary's Snancial statement showed a profit of $245.48. The Commodore, commenting on the accounts, said there had been a slight delay in calling the meeting, due to the strangous nature of the times in which they were living. Turning to the profit and loss account it would be seen that there was a considerable decrease in the club's liabilities in regard to debonture interest, There was a slight decrease, in segurd, to telephone light and water rental, probably due to the smaller amount of water drunk by the members (laughter). There was a very big increase in the prize money-$612 German Fleet in the Baltic, and weep against $436 but be considered this was weakened to a point which would give racing. The profit for to year was $245 against $471 last year, and the decrease was more than explained by the increased cost of the prizes; he thought it was money well spent. The subscripti n list had inwurships would instantly be occupied at crewed; they now had 170 members against 150 in the previous year. With regard to the balance sheet, the reduced lishilities in regard to debentures was due to the fact that 72 debentures, amounting to 8720, had been paid off. This was a considerable accomplishmen and their lishilities under this head were now only $2,000. Their financial position was a sound one as their assets were valued at $10,000; this was largely made up of the value of the slipway and pior, which in the next year or two mights be wiped away by the reclamation scheme which but for the war would already be in band. The conclusion is that as their troops have fired into each other estore, so have their ships fired into each other affoat. The casualty lists they have published also bene out this theory. So that the Russians, while sufequarding their own ships, have contrived to so deceive their enemy as to induce them to fire into ships that flew the German colours. There is one more point to be noted before passing from this notice of the work and influence of the Russian Navy during the present compaign. It is this. The Russians have been struggling hard since their war with the Japanese to build up a strong modern first. They have completed a few of the first battleships and cruiners of the new equations they have laid down, but there are covernl more re-sels of the grantest appear and grougth which will lings the stocks and be completed during the next few months. AMERICAN TESTIMONY TO GERMAN ATROCITIES

TERRIBLE INDICTMENT.

NEW YORK, Sept. 28. Revulting details of German atrocities are published in the New York un to-day, on the authority of Mr. Howard Copland, who was employed officially by the American Embassy in London in the work of bringing Americans away from Paris. Mr. Copland travelled from his Swiss home shortly after war broke out to Paris, and because of his complete knowledge of French and English he was placed in command of the train, which corried many American refegees. It took twenty eight hours to get to Paris, instead of ten, because of the delay caused by the long trains tilled with wounded French soldiers.

"In a letter not intended for publication, and written to Mr Harold M. Sewell, formerly Consul-General for the United formerly Consul-General for the United States at Samos and Vice-Consul at Liverpool, Mr topland says he was per-mitted, owing to his official position, to visit the wounded French soldiers, and to talk to them freely. "The reports about German atrocities," writes Mr Copland." I had set down to hystorical exaggerations, but neither you nor anybody else would have talked with them long without realizing that all that we have been reading in actual horrible truth.

" One soldier after another questioned. always saking for exactly what he had seen with his own eyes and not picked pleto surprise, as only four chances in up by more hearsay. I tell you the the Pari-mutuel were taken on the win things I learned all that long day ner. Sunlight, who paid the hardsome and night in regard to cruelties to women and young girls were beyond description. No such mass of circumstantial details as related to me by the actual witnesses, lying so near to death in those bare cars, and next day in the long rows of cots in the hospitals which I visited in Dioppe could have been collaborated or invented. Each simple, straightforward parration stood clear as but another facet of the great central mass that could not but be the truth.

MATRIMATICAL GODLESSAESS, "All the e wounded soldiers came from camping in Belgium or on the Meuse, fre corpses of women and children were a conwounds were too frequently those of the sword. After the final conquest of Liege, maddenest, then fell upon Belgium in frenzy, famished as they were and mad with the thirst for alcohol. The Germans that you and I know twenty five years ago lessness of present Prussian militarism.it seems to be changed to 'Fear the Kaiser-as a public duty, to publish Mr. copland's letter, says: "I know of no man whose testimony is worthy of greater credence." Commenting upon the horrible disclosures, the New York Fun says editorially: "In this instance we have the shocking statements repeated by a neutral American, who heard them from eye witnesses; who was led to credit them against his own previous ideas of what was possible; whose responsibility is sufficiently guaranteed, and who has no partisan motive that we can imagine for putting falsely on any of the Governments now at war the shame of such misdeeds "-" Daily Telegraph."

THE OFF DAY.

SCHERDAY, NOVEMBER 14, 1714.

(From the " N. C. Daily News.")

After a night of heavy rain, followed. a damp, drizzly morning, the course the Off Buy was very heavy indeed. In spite of the dull weather, there w a fairly large attendance and the spo throughout the afternoon was interesting

In the principal flat race of the day, and A. Lopes. the Autumn Handicap, Mr. Johnston guined a popular victory on Mr. John Peel's Annau, which returned a dividend of $27.10 in the Pari-mutual, favouritism being divided between Peter, The Trader and Britannic.

The Grand National Steeplechase was won for the third time in succession by Lamerton's Bornite, ridden by Mr. Howe, and the second pany past the post was Marengo, in the same ownership,

The most interesting race of the after. neen was that for the "Sungari" Cup. in which the eight starters kept well together for the greater part of the disthe papers about these inhanun barbarities | tance, and Noptune eventually won by does not even give a faint idea of the a head from Peter, with Bently only length away in third place. FIRE IN QUEEN'S ROAD.

A fire, which completely gutted 377 Queen's Road Central, occurred last night at premises occupied by the Ewong Sai dried fish firm, the manager of which is one Mak Yea Man.

-The upper three stories were utilised for storage and as apartments. The origin of the outbreak is unknown. The damage was extensive and the building totally wrocked. The floors collaped and the heat was so fierce that the ton verandals cracked and crashed into the street.

The Fire Brigade soon not the fire under control and managed to contine it to the one house. The property is insured with the Lung Tai Insulance Co. for a sum of $15,000.
